

Common Core State Standards ELA TOT K-12

(3 Day Event) Oct 08, 2012 - Oct 25, 2012

Event Dates: Oct 08, 2012 | Oct 18, 2012 | Oct 25, 2012

This training is designed to provide trainers an understanding of the basic design of the Common Core State Standards (CCSS) in English Language Arts & Literacy in History/Social Studies, Science, and Technical Subjects; how the College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards complement the CCSS; examine some key aspects related to the content of the CCSS; connect the CCSS to current curriculum; research and best practices for instruction that will increase the rigor and cognitive demand that are necessary for students mastery; and consider next steps. Trainers will have opportunities to practice the presentation of these modules and activities available for participant interaction.

Big Ideas:

- Gain an understanding of the CCSS for ELA.
- Understand the shifts and key advances in the areas of Reading, Writing, Speaking and Listening, and Language as it connects to the College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards and how to utilize the standards as a roadmap to success.
- Understand that all students will be college and career ready in literacy no later than the end of high school.
- Represent a shared approach to literacy, which includes reading and writing standards for history/social studies, science, and technical subjects.
- Review new areas of focus, which provide a clear progression of skills from Kindergarten to Grade 12.
- Approach instruction from the perspective of 21st century skills and focus on informational text.

Kate Kinsella: Leadership for Academic Discourse

Oct 05, 2012

Geared to site administrators and teacher-leaders, this Kate Kinsella training will focus on implementation strategies that support high levels of academic and collaborative student-talk and accountable student responses across the content areas. These strategies and methods are critical for leadership to master as California transitions into the Common Core State Standards and remains committed to accelerating the success of long term English learners.

This event is sponsored by the Monterey County Regional System of District and School Support (RSDSS) and Bilingual Teacher Training Programs (BTTP).
