

Evidence-Based Interventions for Your Child with an Autism Spectrum Disorder

By Request

To request this workshop, send an email message to the contact person identified below.

Children diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) benefit from individualized interventions that are research-based. This workshop will familiarize parents with several approaches that meet this requirement.

The following topics will be discussed:

- New information about Autism Spectrum Disorder
- A definition of ‘evidence-based’ interventions
- A description of various evidence-based interventions and their implementation
- An introduction to Internet resources for parent training or information gathering
- Exploration of apps that benefit children diagnosed with ASD

Presenter(s): Patti Bangs, M.S., CCC-SLP/L, Val Wiltse, M.A., Program Specialists, Monterey County SELPA

Participants: Parents and family members of children with special needs

Time: This is a 2-hour presentation
